Scranton marksmen particularly and sportsmen generally are discussing the coming championship shoot of the Green Ridge Gun club at the base ball park next week, Friday, Sept. 23. Eight handsome and valuable prizes are offered and the match is open to marksmen of Northeastern Pennsylvania. Thirty entries, including many of the crack shots of this section of the state, have been received and many more will enter before the entries close this week, Saturday, Sept. 23.

The quality of prizes offered will give an idea of the importance of the match.

Third prize—$45 gold shot watch, presented by lumber dealers of Scranton.

WHIRLS OF THE WHEEL.

W. M. Perrett is now in Philadelphia for a well needed rest. He will remain here about two weeks and will then consider taking a position with some cycle manufacturing company.

Harvey Uhler's latest idea is the formation of a racing men's club in Philadelphia. To be eligible to membership in name the applicant should be able to ride in 2.30 or better.

New York cyclists, aided by the press, are endeavoring to obtain from the park commissioners a circular speedway for the use of the wheelmen in Coney Island. The miles of "brilliant paths" laid off for equestrians, the wheelmen expect their request will be granted.

Newark, N. J., has adopted a new plan to prevent reckless riding on its streets. A number of wheelmen have been committed as special police, whose duty it is to stop all would-be "scorechers," who delight to show what they can do on the streets of that city.

The Rivington Athletic association intends giving a mistletoe ball in the near future for the purpose of raising funds for the new club house, which is hoped, will be erected by Dec. 1. By way of exciting interest in road riding among the members, three prizes will be given the men making the best mileage from Sept. 1 to July 1.

At Egg Harbor Saturday W. A. Wenzel, of the Quaker City wheelmen, won first prize in the three bicycle events, one mile, 2.40 class, one mile handicap, and five mile, the time for the latter being 14.15-1-5.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The following players of the Young Men's Christian Association team will report for practice at the base ball park, tomorrow afternoon at 4 p. m.: Hoffer, Brooks, Williams, Surdam, Reese, Allen, Davis and Malott.

The Young Men's Christian Association Base ball team and the Europa team of Providence will play a game of base ball at the ball park on Wednesday afternoon at 8.30. It will be remembered that these two teams played an eleven inning tie game not long ago, score 5 and 5, and great rivalry exists between them as to who are champions. Both teams are composed of strong players and a good game is expected. Admission 15 cents.

Scranton's Business Interests.

THE TRIBUNE will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographic views of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. Similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract new comers and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon persons whose names are desired in this edition and explain its nature more fully.

Those desiring views of their residences in this edition will please have notice at the office.

Colborn, Harry Hope, well and others. A delegation is expected from Waverly and also from Newton. Refreshments will be served. The much needed rain has at last arrived and has greatly aided the enjoyment of all, for the weather now is most delightful.

The Mississippi River 400,000 Years Ago.

Did you ever figure on what was the probable condition of the great Mississippi river 10,000, 100,000 or even 400,000 years ago? Scientists suggest that the erosion of its bed was accomplished by a mighty cataraict, which began far down the river, probably at the place where it then emptied into the Gulf, and by gradual retrogression dug out the valleylike gorge through which it now flows. That this theory is tenable may be inferred from the high, wall-like bluffs, features so characteristic of the upper part of its course.

A wondrous away of a monster cataraict would of course necessarily leave high walls or "bluffs" on either side. These are the well known features of the father of meandering streams. It would seem, according to this theory, that St. Anthony's falls constitute the remnant of what was the most stupendous cataraict in the world. Geologists estimate that it has taken the river 400,000 years to carve out the mighty ditch through which it now flows.—Philadelphia Press.

Early British Trade.

Besides sundry references by Greek and Latin writers to early British trade, there is a great body of circumstantial evidence, based upon the discoveries of antiquaries, which all tends to prove the acquaintance of the Britons with commerce. Lastly, it may be asked who undertook the transit of minerals by sea from Britain to the coast of Germany; for the Britons, so far as we know, had no great skill in seamanlike ship. It is a remarkable fact that, toward the end of the Fourth century, all the coast of Britain, from the Wash to the Isle of Wight, was known to the Romans as "the Saxon shore," and it may be reasonably inferred that it was so called because it included a great number of small Saxon ships had long been in the habit of conveying cargoes to the Baltic and German coasts.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Everything Seems Wrong

to the dyspeptic. The world is upside down; the times are out of joint; he's ready to turn his back upon his best friend.

Now the thing that offends is wrong with dyspeptics, is their choice of a remedy. They are drugs and medicines on the one hand—Carlsbad Sprudel on the other. They can't be both right; there's too much difference in their methods and in their results.

Carlsbad—the waters of the Sprudel Spring at Calisbad have been curing dyspeptics for hundreds of years. Curing them. No remedy in the world has been so thoroughly tried and proved, in all digestive disorders, stomach troubles, lack of appetite, or perverted nutrition. Add a little of the genuine Carlsbad Sprudel Salt to their tumblerfull of the water, if you desire to increase its purgative action.

Do not be imposed upon by unscrupulous dealers who will sell you a mixture of Seidlitz Powder or Glauber Salt or "Improved Carlsbad Salt" or "Artificial Carlsbad Salt," "German Salt," or other names. Insist upon the genuine article, which must have the signature of "Eisner & Mendelson Co., Sole Agents, New York," on every bottle.
